

Eighth Annual Workshop: Business Ethics in the Six
May 13-14, 2024 – Via Zoom

Format: Participants in a session will have read the paper in advance. Sessions will begin with short remarks by the author (5-10 minutes). This will be followed by a question and answer period. The first three questions will have been previously submitted.

Monday, May 13th

09:40 – 10:50

Santiago Mejia (Fordham University)

Defending that Shareholders Own the Corporation

Chair: Hasko von Kriegstein (Toronto Metropolitan University)

11:00 – 12:00

Gui Siqueira (The Wharton School)

Toward a Robust Theory of Bribery:

Revisiting the Positional Duty Approach

Chair: Robert Phillips (York University)

12:00 – 13:00

Lunch Break

13:00 – 14:00

Ewan Kingston (Santa Clara University)

So, You are Selling Asbestos... The Ethics of Threatened Industries

Chair: Alison Kemper (Toronto Metropolitan University)

14:10 – 15:10

Miguel Alzola (Fordham University)

Why Can't Just Anyone Blame a Wrongdoer? Rethinking Moral

Standing, Managerial Authority, and Organizational Justice

Chair: Grant Rozeboom (Saint Mary's College of California)

Tuesday, May 14th

09:00 – 10:00

Victor Chung (University of Toronto)

A Basic Requirement for Market Objectors

Chair: Patricia Hania (Toronto Metropolitan University)

10:10 – 11:10

Tobey Scharding (Rutgers University)

Artificial Cognitive Moral Development:

Toward a Theory of Ethical Decision-Making for Autonomous-AI

Chair: Justin Ames (University of Michigan-Dearborn)

11:20 – 12:20

Julian Jonker (The Wharton School)

Is Discrimination a Market Failure?

Chair: Sareh Pouryousefi (Toronto Metropolitan University)

12:20 – 13:20

Lunch Break

13:20 – 14:20

Helet Botha (University of Michigan-Dearborn) and

Lauren Kaufmann (University of Virginia)

The Case for Exploring Grand Challenges through Existentialist Thought

Chair: David Silver (University of British Columbia)

14.30 – 15.30

Samuel Mortimer (University of Oxford)

Mopping the Floor or Putting a Man on the Moon? Self-Narrative and the Scope of Individual Moral Responsibility for Collective Actions

Chair: Hamish Russell (University of Toronto)
